Contents. According to Einstein, the profit motive of a capitalist society, in conjunction with competition among capitalists, leads to unnecessary cycles of booms and depressions, and ultimately encourages selfishness instead of cooperation. In addition, the educational system of such a society would be severely undermined because people will ...

Socialism is inherently selfish because it teaches people to expect "free" things without first fulfilling other people's needs. Economist George Gilder argues that "only capitalism creates a group of people, known as entrepreneurs, who have no choice but to concern themselves with the needs and desires of others.

Why a Marxist School? Karl Marx's ideas are a common touchstone for many people working for change. His historical materialism, his many contributions to political economy and class analysis, all continue to serve his core values--the self-emancipation of the working class and a vision of a classless society.
